

Apple Inc.

AAPL — Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q (Illustrative)
Quarter Ended June 28, 2025
Filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (synthetic)

Quarter Highlights

- Total net sales of $89.3 billion, up 4% year-over-year.
- Services revenue reached a new quarterly record, up 8% year-over-year.
- Greater China revenue declined slightly year-over-year, though management noted sequential improvement versus the prior two quarters.
- The Board of Directors declared a quarterly dividend of $0.26 per share and authorized continued share repurchases under the Company's existing program.

Condensed Income Statement

($ in millions)	Q3 FY2025	Q3 FY2024
Net sales	$89,318	$85,777
Cost of sales	$48,540	$47,092
Gross profit	$40,778	$38,685
Operating income	$27,352	$25,352
Net income	$22,956	$21,448

Revenue and Guidance

Management guided fiscal fourth-quarter total revenue growth to the low-to-mid single digits year-over-year, citing continued Services momentum and a favorable initial reception to Apple Intelligence features rolling out to additional languages and regions during the quarter. Management said it expected Greater China trends to continue gradually improving but declined to provide a specific regional growth target.

Revenue by Category

Category	Q3 FY2025	Q3 FY2024	YoY Growth
iPhone	$44.6B	$44.0B	+1%
Services	$24.2B	$22.4B	+8%
Mac	$7.3B	$7.0B	+4%

iPad	$6.6B	$6.4B	+3%
Wearables, Home & Accessories	$6.6B	$6.6B	+0%

Management Commentary

Management said installed base growth continued across all major product categories and geographic segments, reaching an all-time high. Management characterized early Apple Intelligence adoption data as encouraging, particularly among users upgrading from devices several years old, though it cautioned that it is still early to draw firm conclusions about the feature set's effect on the overall iPhone replacement cycle.